Student Led Societies

Introduction

Having a student-led society dedicated to sustainability plays a crucial role in fostering a culture of environmental responsibility and proactive engagement within a university community. Such societies empower students to take initiative, drive meaningful change, and develop solutions for real-world environmental challenges. By actively promoting awareness, sustainable practices, and environmental stewardship, student-led sustainability societies encourage peers and the broader community to adopt responsible habits, contributing positively to global sustainability goals. Additionally, these societies provide students with opportunities for leadership, teamwork, and innovative thinking, preparing them to become future leaders capable of addressing complex sustainability issues in their personal and professional lives.

1. Greenup Club – A sustainability and environmental awareness club that promotes eco-friendly initiatives, plantation drives, and community service programs

Overview

The Green Up Club is functioning under the Sustainability Cluster, School of Engineering, University of Petroleum & Energy Studies, Dehradun. GREEN UP is a cause against environmental peril. As a society, it is our concern to cure such problems and to aware others about the same, which is of outmost importance. In UPES, Green Up has always strived for extending various initiations taken by Indian government by organizing campaigns and events that are commenced nationally. Green Up is focusing on mobilizing and empowering communities to participate in preserving nature and preventing environmental degradation, thereby improving the quality and maintaining the ingenuity and integrity of nature. We, at Green up believe to Inspire, Imagine & Innovate.

🌿 ATMOSPHERE 2024: Greenup Club's Environmental Awareness Drive 🌿

As part of the ATMOSPHERE 2024 event, we had the wonderful opportunity to visit an orphanage, representing the GreenUp Club HSE and Civil Engineering Department from UPES School of Advanced Engineering (SoAE) . Our mission was to engage with children and raise awareness about environmental sustainability and the importance of a greener future. This initiative aligns with several Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), including:

- SDG 3: Good Health and Well-being – By promoting clean, green living environments, we support healthier communities and overall well-being.

- SDG 4: Quality Education – By teaching children about sustainability, we are contributing to inclusive and equitable quality education.
- SDG 6: Clean Water and Sanitation – Our discussions on responsible water use and conservation encouraged sustainable water management.
- SDG 7: Affordable and Clean Energy – We introduced concepts about clean energy, discussing small steps like energy conservation in daily life.
- SDG 11: Sustainable Cities and Communities – Encouraging children to take care of their environment contributes to building sustainable communities.
- SDG 13: Climate Action – We promoted climate action by showing the children how their small actions can make a big difference.
- SDG 15: Life on Land – Through activities like tree planting and protecting ecosystems, we helped the children understand the importance of preserving life on land.

Engaging with these bright, eager young minds was an inspiring experience! Together with my dedicated classmates, we organized interactive sessions and fun activities to make learning about the environment both enjoyable and impactful. Their enthusiasm for creating a sustainable future was a powerful reminder that collective action starts with each of us, no matter our age.

 Together, we can create a healthier planet and a brighter future, one small step at a time!

Environment Awareness Campaign on the occasion of World Environment Day

UPES Dehradun conducting an Environment Awareness Campaign on the occasion of Environment Day targeting industries to raise environmental awareness to understand the fragility of our environment and the importance of its protection. Promoting environmental awareness is an easy way to become an environmental steward and participate in creating a brighter future for our children.

Environmental awareness is an integral part of the movement's success. By teaching our friends and family that the physical environment is fragile and indispensable, we can begin fixing the problems that threaten it.

It will help to minimize pollution and global warming and also lead to a more sustainable world by promoting renewable resources such as solar, wind, and water.

World Environment Day 2022 (5th June 2022)

Greetings from Green Up Club !

World Environment Day 2022 is the biggest International Day for environment. This day is led by United Nations Environment programme and is held since 1973.

It is the largest global platform for environment outreach.

This year it is being hosted by Sweden.

“Only One Earth” is the campaign slogan, with the focus on “Living Sustainably in Harmony with Nature”.

The idea is to engage "governments, businesses, civil society, schools, celebrities, cities and communities in raising awareness and celebrating environmental action.

The 2022 World Environment Day, hosted by Sweden, campaigns for collective, transformative action on a global scale to celebrate, protect and restore our planet, encouraging everyone, everywhere, to live sustainably and take action on the climate crisis.

Sustainable Transport

Making cycling and walking easier is a great climate response. Switching from gasoline-powered cars to cycling is a great way to reduce carbon pollution. People will only make that switch if they believe that cycling infrastructure is safe. This is why we’re supporting safe, separated bike lanes, especially in urban environments.

Most of the fuel used to power a car is either lost or used to propel the massive vehicle, whereas fuelling a bike's engine — that's you — requires only a healthy diet.

People who live in walkable neighborhoods are 39 percent less likely to have diabetes than those in car-dependent areas.

Majorly sustainable transport contributes to a reduction in damaging carbon dioxide (CO<sub>2</sub>) emissions, and therefore, to a reduction in atmospheric pollution and improved air quality in cities.

Cutting food waste is a delicious way of saving money, helping to feed the world and protect the planet.

Why is it important to recycle food waste?

Food waste that is not recycled may be sent to landfill where it rots, causing a huge negative impact on the environment by releasing methane – a harmful greenhouse gas that is 25 times more potent than carbon dioxide.

Some local councils send their non-recyclable waste to be incinerated to create useful energy. However, food waste is composed of about 70% water, requiring considerably more energy to burn it, making this a less efficient method of disposal than recycling.

More and more people are recycling their food waste. If we all stopped wasting the food which could have been eaten, it would have the same CO2 impact as taking 1 in 4 cars off UK roads.

Two generations from now, people are going to look back and wonder how we allowed for food waste to become such a big problem. After all, it's not like finding a cure for cancer – you don't need special expertise to contribute to a solution. Every time you do your groceries or consider throwing away food that can still be used, you get an opportunity to make those future generations happy. Use it.

THE HEALTH EFFECTS OF AIR POLLUTION IMPERIL HUMAN LIVES

Air pollution is causing way more damage to not only us but to our kids and animals. More and more people are suffering form air pollution. Kids with asthma have such a hard time breathing. They can't even play outside sometimes. Pollution has risen dramatically in past years affecting air pollution to cause the greenhouse effect and health problems, land pollution which causes harm to our environment, and water pollution which impairs water ecosystems. These obstacles cause harm and distress to plants, animals and humans. The rising of these various types of pollution is an everyday problem that affects our life and future and the environment day by day. So we should take our time and think about our actions before we do them. So help stop air pollution.

Clean Energy

"Our universe is a sea of energy - free, clean energy. It is all out there waiting for us to set sail upon it."

Clean energy is energy that comes from renewable, zero emission sources that do not pollute the atmosphere when used, as well as energy saved by energy efficiency measures.

Clean energy appears to be the future for the power needs of humanity across the globe as reliance of fossil fuels continues to diminish. As the drive towards clean, green and renewable energy continues to advance, the cost will fall and work will be created to develop and install these new power solutions.

More and more people are recognizing the environmental, societal and economic benefits of clean energy and, as more cities, states and nations sign up to a green power agenda, this will continue to advance.

Healthy Wetlands are Imperative for a Healthy Earth

Wetlands are unique, productive ecosystems where terrestrial and aquatic habitats meet. Wetlands play a critical role in maintaining many natural cycles and supporting a wide range of biodiversity. They purify and replenish our water, and provide the fish and rice that feed billions. They serve as a natural sponge against flooding and drought, protect our coastlines and help fight climate change. Bursting with biodiversity, wetlands are a vital means of storing carbon. Wetlands are also tremendously productive ecosystems that provide a myriad of services to society worldwide. Wetlands are a critical part of our natural environment and it is of utmost importance that we should protect it.

STOP PLASTIC POLLUTION

Plastic pollution has become a global concern, as our planet is drowning in plastic litter and microplastics. While plastic has many valuable uses, societies have become highly dependent on single-use or disposable plastic — with severe environmental consequences.

Plastic pollution is the build-up of plastic objects and particles in the environment (for example - bags, plastic containers, and microbeads) that harms wildlife, natural and wildlife habitats, and mankind. Plastics that pollute the environment are classified as micro, meso, or macro debris, depending on their size.

Only 9% of all plastic waste ever produced has been recycled. About 12% has been incinerated, while the rest — 79% — has accumulated in landfills, dumps or the natural environment. This accumulated plastics on our land deteriorates its fertility and in water bodies ruins its purity, thus affecting the marine life.

As plastic is a global issue, international cooperation is needed to coordinate actions to have an efficient decision making in order to tackle this major environmental problem. Several initiatives and activities exist aiming at addressing the plastic waste problem and eliminating plastic litter entering the oceans. There are a few things that governments can do — from running public awareness campaigns, to offering incentives for recycling, to introducing levies or even banning certain products outright.

It is not only the responsibility of our government but also our individual responsibility to do our part in reducing the use of plastics. We can use cloth bags and paper bags as alternatives to plastic bags. It is only when we, as responsible global citizens are aware of the harmful impacts of plastic on our environment and by taking initiatives to reduce its usage, can reduce the plastic pollution.

LET'S LEARN WASTE MANAGEMENT

Whenever it comes to Production, Manufacture, and Process, a term is common - Waste and management of waste is most important for a better future but when it comes to management, humans fall back to their skills. But still, there are many who are holding the pillars who believe in the idea of Improved Human Health, Preserving The Environment, Protecting Marine and Animal Life, and a clean future for the coming generation. Waste management is the key to many new ways of production methodologies new alternatives and who knows many new products yet to be discovered. Waste management has a lot of potential only thing is how much you desire to discover!

National Pollution Prevention Day (2nd December 2021)

Every year, 2 December is observed as National Pollution Prevention Day in order to commemorate those who lost their lives in the Bhopal Gas Tragedy in 1984.

This day also aims to make people understand the need for preserving our natural resources.

National Pollution Prevention Day 2021 is observed with the theme of raising awareness around pollution along with urging the government to adopt policies that can help in reducing the effects of pollution.

On the National Pollution Prevention Day, it is our responsibility to avoid wastage of natural resources and prevent industrial pollution. We also need to focus on afforestation to combat the loss of green cover in the country.

SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT BUILD WITH FUTURE GENERATIONS IN MIND

Environment and economy are interdependent and need each other. Development that ignores its repercussions on the environment will destroy the environment that sustains life forms. What is needed is sustainable development: development that will allow all future generations to have a potential average quality of life that is at least as high as that which is being enjoyed by the current generation. The concept of sustainable development was emphasised by the United Nations Conference on Environment and Development (UNCED), which defined it as: ‘Development that meets the need of the present generation without compromising the ability of the future generation to meet their own needs’.

There are four dimensions to sustainable development – society, environment, culture and economy – which are intertwined, not separate.

Sustainability is a paradigm for thinking about the future in which environmental, societal and economic considerations are balanced in the pursuit of an improved quality of life. For example, a prosperous society relies on a healthy environment to provide food and resources, safe drinking water and clean air for its citizens.

#Reduce hashtag#Reuse hashtag#Recycle and make the world a better place.

Reduce Reuse Recycle are the three words that can save us from many future catastrophes that are showing their faces in form of Climate Change, Land and Sea pollution, Food Scarcity and many unknown issues yet to be discovered and we are lucky that we still have time in our hand to change things, all it will take is a small step.

Renewable Energy Resources

A transition to clean energy is about making an investment in our future.

- Gloria Reuben

hashtag#RENEWABLE_ENERGY is the future of the country not only for the country but it is also the future of the world. With the rate of development and urbanization going around the globe, we have to switch to renewable resources. We should think of alternative ways and technology should be made for the optimum use of natural resources.

Look around yourself and find ways to switch to renewable resources.

Fire Ecology

Not so long ago forest fires were seen as an extremely harmful influence on the ecosystem. People have since realized that fire is a natural and healthy part of the ecosystem, and further that suppressing forest fires can have devastating effects.

Fire ecology is a branch of ecology that focuses on the origins of wildland fire and its relationship to the environment that surrounds it, both living and non-living.

Natural forest fires are typically started by lightning strikes. Once ignited, their spread is dependent on weather conditions and the fuel available in the forest. Areas with large amounts of vegetation near the ground are more fire-prone. If these fuel sources get the fire hot enough, it can also jump into the tops of the trees and spread from there. In a healthy forest, however, this is relatively uncommon.

Once the fire has burned itself out the process of succession begins. Depending on when the next fire takes place, this may take 300 years or more. In the first stage the forest is composed of primarily herbaceous vegetation and smaller pines.

As time passes the trees get bigger while competition for light and other resources tends to thin out the forest. Fires are relatively uncommon because the reduced vegetation on the ground (due to the scarcity of sunlight) makes it difficult to ignite the treetops. This stage lasts for approximately 100 years.

The third stage (again about 100 years) is characterized by the disappearance of some of the larger trees and denser ground vegetation (due to increased light). Fire is a greater threat due to the lower canopy of trees, but still relatively uncommon as the forest tends to remain green during the fire season.

MATE CHANGE IS REAL

"Climate change is no longer some far-off problem; it is happening here; it is happening now."

- The Day recognizes the Earth and its ecosystems as humanity's common home and the need to protect her to enhance people's livelihoods, counteract climate change, and stop the collapse of biodiversity.

The theme for 2021 is Restore our Earth.

- Tropical forests are incredibly effective at storing carbon, providing at least a third of the mitigation action needed to prevent the worst climate change scenarios. Yet nature-based solutions receive only 3% of all climate funding.

- Natural climate solutions such as restoring degraded forests could create as many as 39 jobs per million dollars spent — that's a job-creation rate more than six times higher than the oil and gas industry.

SOME WAYS TO REDUCE CLIMATE CHANGE and not limited to this:-

1. Leave the car at home
2. Plant more trees
3. Eat less meat and dairy
4. Reduce water waste
5. Invest in energy-efficient appliances

Recycling is significant in today's world, as we need to leave this planet for our future generations. Recycling starts at home. We've been indiscreet so far with the manner in which we've treated Mother Earth, and it's an ideal opportunity to change, not just the way in which we do things yet the way in which we think.

As time passes, the population is expanding. With that, the amount of waste so delivered is additionally expanding manifolds. The more the waste creation, the more is the measure of room needed to dump these wastes. Presently, it should be recalled that the space accessible on earth is extremely restricted, and it is clearly dependent upon us to utilize it prudently.

Participate in the Panel discussion, hear from knowledgeable speakers, and learn about Advances and Innovations in Recycling Engineering on 22 October 2021 from 9.30 AM-11:30 AM.

International Conference on Advances and Innovation in Recycling Engineering (AIR 2021)

On a daily basis, the world produces close to 4 million tonnes of waste. Waste recycling is one of the well-known initiatives for combating overflowing landfills and polluted water bodies. Recycling is one of the 3 R's, reduce, reuse, and recycle, which aims at promoting sustainable living. It's evident, now more than ever, that we are not doing enough.

Participate in the conference, hear from knowledgeable speakers, and learn about advances and innovations in recycling engineering.

Theme:- Recycle today, for a better tomorrow.

WORLD WILDLIFE DAY

World Wildlife Day is celebrated on October 6 every year. The theme for this year is "Forests and Livelihoods: Sustaining People and Planet", as a way to highlight the central role of forests, forest species and ecosystems services in sustaining the livelihoods of hundreds of millions of people globally, and particularly of Indigenous and local communities with historic ties to forested and forest-adjacent areas.

World Wildlife Day is an opportunity to celebrate the many beautiful and varied forms of wild fauna and flora and to raise awareness of the multitude of benefits that their conservation provides to people. At the same time, the Day reminds us of the urgent need to step up the fight against wildlife crime and human-induced reduction of species, which have wide-ranging economic, environmental and social impacts.

World Wildlife Day will always celebrate forest based livelihoods and will promote the value of knowledge that contributes to establishing a more sustainable relationship with these crucial natural systems.

Arthneeti came up with the idea of "Menstrual Leave"

Arthneeti came up with the idea of "Menstrual Leave" for the panel discussion because there are many social and economic implications of the same. These leaves, if implemented, have the potential to improve the morale of women and diversify the workforce. To summarize our esteemed panelists:-

Bitopi Ma'am aptly said that menstrual leave being abused is a topic for much later as there is a lot of cultural and social stigma around it and it is not a statistical reality yet. Evidence shows that only 7 countries out of 195 countries in the world have implemented it and that too reluctantly.

Younus Sir, eloquently stated that globally, India has been ahead of the world in giving menstruation aid, for example Kerala. Though a study found that around 52% of organisations preferred to hire males with the introduction of leaves but then there are also organisations like Zomato, who are taking measures to be more inclusive.

Seema Ma'am concluded, with her personal experience of working in NGOs serving as a testament, that in India for implementation of Menstrual leaves, the key is awareness amongst the people. The awareness will in turn cause better formulation of policies and ensuring there is more inclusivity and less discrimination.

The discussion was like light in a dark tunnel which showed us that there is a long way to go but acceptance and changing the thought process of people is the effective solution for the long run!! We would like to thank Soumyajit Sir for guiding us through the entire process of holding this panel discussion and Younus Sir, Bitopi Ma'am, and Seema Ma'am for sharing their insights on the topic. Additionally for the entire team of Arthneeti for the successful planning and execution of this event.

UPES-CSI 2024-25 Recap

"The best way to predict the future is to invent it." – Alan Kay

 The year began in style as CSI hosted its flagship event YUGMUK, a great funtech festival - and the theme for the event was "Computer Kala and Krida."

From INNOVATION to ARENA 3.0, Drishya to PERSONA, the festival showcased the intersection of innovation and expression. As if one could say, it was ignited by the enthusiasm of Mr. Gajendra Purohit. The essence of the festival brought so much joy to the UPES campus with our own startup platform, digital gaming, and creative expression.

 CSR Initiative: A great way to wrap up the year with a heart. UPES-CSI spent an enriching and memorable day at local government schools, including 'painting relays', along with dance, food and contributed goodies for young dreamers. To listen and connect with them, see their smiles and laughter, made for a forever memorable experience.

HR UDYOG

Stepping into a New Chapter – From Member to Co-Head at HR UDYOG 🌈

Looking back at where I started, it feels surreal to share that I've officially taken on the role of Co-Head of the Media & Design Department at HR Udyog.

Joining HR Udyog as a member was one of the most spontaneous yet meaningful decisions I made. Back then, I was simply eager to learn, contribute, and be part of something bigger than myself. I never imagined that what started as a small step would turn into such a transformative journey — one that challenged me, shaped me, and taught me more than I ever expected.

Through countless meetings, design reviews, brainstorming sessions, sleepless nights, and successful events, I've had the chance to work with some incredibly passionate and talented individuals. I've learned to lead with empathy, communicate with clarity, and stay grounded even under pressure.

This new role as Co-Head is more than just a title — it's a responsibility I take with pride and dedication. I'm excited to mentor new members, co-create impactful campaigns, and continue building a space where creativity thrives.

Thank you Dr Deepak Bangwal ,Divyam Dave, Deepanshi Gupta, Arjunveer Malhotra, for the constant guidance, encouragement, and belief in me. Grateful for the opportunities and excited for what's ahead!

When I first became a part of HR Udyog

A lot, actually. More than I expected.

When I first became a part of HR Udyog, I thought I was just stepping into another extracurricular. Turns out, I was stepping into a space that would push me, support me and grow with me 🧠

From being someone who hesitated to speak up, to someone confidently handling PR tasks, managing outreach, and coordinating with people—The shift was subtle, but strong 🍊

Since then, I’ve:

- ★ Helped push event registrations to a great turnout,
- ★ Brought in a sponsor for one of our flagship events,
- ★ Played my part in PR responsibilities, outreach and teamwork.

These might sound like small wins, but together, they’ve shaped my confidence, communication and clarity of thought 🌟

It’s not always about leading a team or heading a department.

Sometimes, just being a dedicated member opens doors to personal and professional breakthroughs.

So no, it’s not “just a college club.”

It's a place where I've learned, contributed, connected—and found a version of myself I didn't know existed. ✨

Grateful for this journey and for the constant push that HR Udyog gives me to be better, sharper, and more driven 🍷

If you've ever been a part of something that changed you—share it with me! I'd love to hear your story 🙌

HYPERVISION

Overview:

UPES Hypervision student chapter was established in 2011. It is the only IT chapter created in UPES under the mentorship of Dr. Manish Prateek. The main concept of Hypervision is to serve the purpose of Peer Mentoring and introduced an abstract of family concept according to which a specific family number is allotted to each student and a mentor was respectively assigned to ensure a productive and guided overall growth of the student in academics and personality. The chapter works through a core-committee selected at the start of the academic session. The chapter aims at a comprehensive development of the students through series of events round the year that makes them aware of their strengths and the weaknesses and helps them to think out of the box. And give opportunity to establish a personal networking system in the region. Some of our successful event held in this year goes as, starting from a coding event named "Code hustle", "Inverse-Coding" , talent hunt as "pehchan",fun event as "call:fire", donation drive as "Balloon day" and weekly "CSR activities". Students also benefit, as chapters help them get involved in the business world by providing workshops, resume help, and a focus on career building. We are now a family of over 80+ core committee members and are on a pursuit of achieving an exceptional level of excellence.

A Tribute to Srinivasa Ramanujan on National Mathematics Day - 22nd December 2024

On this special occasion, we at UPES are honored to launch a society named hashtag#Sankhyanam, dedicated to fostering the love and application of mathematics.

The journey of learning mathematics begins in early childhood, evolving through years of practice and understanding. Unfortunately, for many, this passion diminishes in universities and institutions, where students often focus solely on passing exams rather than embracing the beauty and utility of mathematics.

It's our duty to rekindle this enthusiasm and innovate in ways that make mathematics the backbone of our engineering journeys. Sankhyanam is a step toward achieving this goal, promoting creativity, curiosity, and collaboration in the realm of mathematics.

I am excited to be part of this initiative under the esteemed leadership of our Dean, Dr. Vijaysekhar Chellaboina and with efforts of my colleagues BHAVANA KAUSHIK, Dr. Sanoj Kumar, Dr. Archana Kumari, Dr. Surbhi Saraswat. Together, we aim to make mathematics not just a subject but a cornerstone for budding engineers.
